1. Why are you running for this office?
2. Okay, I will try to keep this short.
3. But hopefully my message will still get through... I'm tired of seen my brothers and sisters struggle to be abel to find a home. And for the ones that do have a place I see my brothers and sisters struggling paycheck to paycheck just to get by. I'm tired of seeing my veterans being treated like peasant and like something that's just in the way Instead of rewarding Them. I'm tired of seeing the seniors. The ones that have contributed and have donated majority of their life to our society. To now, just be treated as if they're in the way they i think they deserve to live peacefully. Now this is just my feelings but I feel like the government has forgotten.
4. Who they are supposed to be working for end, we are human beings, not bank accounts i'm running for assessor because I want to bring back the humanity back into the equation.
5. And respect and compassion.

6. What qualifications do you think are most important for the position of County Assessor?

Knowing the Constitution.
Knowing the bill rights.
Knowing that the assessor well work for the people and will serve in the best interest for the people common sense and respect

7. Describe the qualifications and experience that you bring to the office.

I've been a u s citizen all my life I don't have to explain any further but i well.. Im a blue-collar worker, since I was 17 i've experience the majority of all the trades i know how to develop rawland I know how to install infrastructure for residential.
I know how to do foundation. Do carpenter work to build houses?
Plumbing so on and so forth. So that being said there's no job, too big or too complicated for me to conquer the best way to learn and to experience is to do just hands on experience.

8. Identify the top three challenges the Clallam County Assessor's Office is currently facing.

Candidate Questionnaire

To bridge the gap between the office and to the people
To respect the citizens fourth amendment
There's a difference between what makes sense on paper.And what makes sense in real life

9. Having identified these three challenges, what would you do to address them?
I truly believe. The assessor needs to actually go out and talk to the people go where the people are. Start some kind of event, even if it's just me where I go out. Try to teach the people the power that they actually hold

2 By respecting the citizens fourth amendment

3 By me antonio price with the teams effort to try to show the office workers that Their world it is completely different then a blue collar worker And the things that make sense on paper aren't practical in real life practice.
